Sugar and Spice and Everything Nice: Trivia II

- 1. About how long would a medieval English laborer have to work before being able to buy a pound of pepper?
- 2. Many medieval people considered the hot and dry qualities of pepper to be good for what?
- 3. Situated along the western coast of India, what medieval city was a trading post primarily for spices and textiles?
- 4. Zheng He's first expedition to share China's goods, including spices, silk, porcelain and metal-wares, took place on ships known as what?
- 5. What spice was sold in the form of a nut or seed and grated using small tools for recipes for pastries, meat and rice dishes?
- 6. Cloves and nutmeg were only grown on what islands for many centuries?
- 7. Cloves were in high demand during the Medieval Era because of the many uses or cloves. Cloves could be used as breath-fresheners, stomach-ache soothers, and for what other medicinal purpose?
- 8. Cinnamon probably originates from what modern-day country?
- 9. Cinnamon and cassia are two pungent spices originating from what part of two different trees?